"Rübezahl 2027"

Traveling means finding out that everyone is wrong about what they think about other countries - as Aldous Huxley knew. And J.R.R. Tolkien once bought a Rübezahl postcard and wrote the following note on it: "The origin of Gandal"

Rübezahl - the mysterious ruler of the Giant Mountains [illegible]es stern and terrifying, sometimes good-natured, and [illegible]ous - but never malicious. The legends of the mountains have been alive for over 400 years in Silesia, Germany, the Czech Republic, Poland, and Slovakia. Not to be forgotten: the "Robin Hood" of the Tatras - Juraj Jánošík. We experience his heroic story where it originated - in the Tatra Mountains and the Western Carpathians.
We also encounter film history along the way: "Nosferatu", the first silent Dracula film, as well as scenes from "Dragonheart" and "Casino Royale".
Be there - on our ride through the legendary Sudeten Mountains, also known as the "Wild Boar Mountains".
We experience the impressive Giant Mountains with the Schneekoppe, the Altvater Mountains with their witches' tales, the Devil's Caves - and who knows what other legends we will encounter. Historical regions such as Bohemia and Moravia as well as Upper Silesia are on our route. Our easternmost point: the wild Western Carpathians. We cross the imposing Bastei Bridge, enjoy breathtaking views, and visit places steeped in history - all on our bikes, of course, through unforgettable landscapes. We spend the night on old walls and let myths and legends accompany us - on a ride through seven countries, in a north-eastern direction.

Swiss Road Captain

we make it real...

Day 1 Switzerland – Donauwörth 330 Km

After the first handshake and briefing, our ride into adventure begins. We cross the Appenzell region and ride over the Losen Pass into the Allgäu. The road leads us along the Lech to the Danube, where we round off the first day.

Day 2 Donauwörth – Karlovy Vary 320 Km

We leave Donauwörth and ride through the gentle hills of the Upper Palatinate, past dark forests and whispering fields. After crossing the Czech border, we enter the Emperor's Forest – through gorges and countless curves, we reach Karlovy Vary; James Bond sends his regards.

Welcome to the region of "Myths & Legends"

Day 3 Karlovy Vary - Hřensko 230 Km

Today's stage takes us through the Ore Mountains, the Giant Mountains, and deep into the ancient forests of Saxon Switzerland. Every kilometer draws us deeper into a world where time seems to stand still. The wind carries tales of nutcrackers and mountain spirits. We pause at the Bastei Bridge – overlooking a dreamlike landscape. Here, the magic of the mountains lives on.

Day 4 Hřensko – Olszyna 240 Km

Today, we continue eastward. Through the hilly "Bohemian Switzerland" we reach the Devil's Caves – a special experience among the sandstone cliffs. After the Beech Forest National Park, we cross into Poland – already the eighth border crossing of our ride. We spend the night in a mystical, ancient building in Upper Silesia...

Day 5 Olszyna – Krapowice 260 Km

We leave Upper Silesia heading south. Past Devil's Hill and through the Dark Valley – we can feel him: Rübezahl. The wild guardian of the Giant Mountains does not appear, but his presence is felt. Things get eerie... we visit the Skull Chapel from ancient times. We ride through the Jeseníky Mountains, past the "Witch Marks", and return to Upper Silesia – where our night feels straight out of a Harry Potter story.

Day 6 Krapowice - Zakopane 280 Km

Today, the borders travel with us – we cross Poland, the Czech Republic, Slovakia... and back into Poland. First, we head towards Ostrava, where Harley Davidson awaits. Then we ride eastwards into the wilderness of the Tatra Mountains. Lake Orava sparkles like the eye of the Earth – and suddenly it appears: the "Sleeping Knight," a mountain range resting like an ancient giant. In Zakopane, we find rest – well-earned after a day that blurred all borders.

Day 7 Freier Day in Zakopane 0 Km

Zakopane – more than just a winter wonderland. Today, the day is yours to choose: take the cable car to the summit of Kasprowy Wierch at almost 2,000 meters above sea level, explore the surreal miniature "Mouse Worlds", or simply relax, stroll through the village, and unwind in the spa. The day is yours – and perhaps also belongs to the old knight still sleeping out in the mountains...

Day 8 Zakopane – Košice 290 Km

From the Tatras, we head towards the Western Carpathians – entering Slovakia. Memories of Dracula echo, but this is the territory of Jánošík, the Robin Hood of the region. In Bardejov, a town where time seems to have slept for centuries, we make a short stop. Then we follow the Veľká Domaša reservoir – a silver ribbon guiding us to the "Tuscany of the East." In the evening, there's time to visit the Elisabeth Cathedral in Košice – a gothic gem from a long-forgotten era.

Day 9 Košice – Brince 250 Km

In the morning, we head west – our journey's easternmost point is now behind us. Ahead lie the Low Tatras – winding, wild, full of life. We pass through the mysterious "Čertova dolina," the Devil's Valley. In Súľová, we feel the strength of the mountains; in Bačova Roveň, the crispness of mountain air. The High Tatras are once again near – like an old friend riding silently beside us. At Lake Liptov, the sun sets – and we drift with it into the quiet of the night.

Day 10 Brince – Brünn 300 Km

The day begins with a dance – curve after curve through the Orava Valley, past the castle where the first silent Dracula film was made. A hint of Nosferatu follows us as we ride along the river to the monument of Juraj Jánošík. Moravia greets us with open hills and golden fields. The day ends in Brno.

Day 11 Brünn - Hrádek 260 Km

The journey continues westward through the open, sunlit expanses of Bohemia. The scent of Budweiser malt lingers in the air. We reach Hrádek – today's destination. At Zámek Hrádek – within thick walls and ancient wood – we enjoy the evening with fine beer and delicious food.

Day 12 Hrádek - Tierhaupten 280 Km

One last ride through the green cathedrals of Central Europe. Bohemian Forest, Bavarian Forest, Palatinate Forest – a triad of silence, shadows, and ancient breath. We roll through the Altmühl Valley, cross the Danube again – where our journey first began. In Tierhaupten, a monastery awaits – a place for reflection, a place to let go. The final evening – stories are shared, glances exchanged, fires lit.

Day 13 Tierhaupten - Switzerland 260 Km

Heading home – always westward. Through the Upper Allgäu and along the Danube, we return to Switzerland near Schaffhausen. Back to where it all began, where we met just days ago and our shared adventure took off...

" The ride ends - but the myth lives on in us "
the next ride is in the works - see you...

We ... Biker on the Road

Traveling safely in a convoy is our credo on the road. The convoy consists of different participants with the same "philosophy": Enjoying our hobby together and starting the day with curiosity: exploring countries and beautiful areas, getting to know places, and hearing stories, understanding cultures - these are the highlights of our rides. Letting the rides resonate with great memories and unforgettable pictures is what we want to offer you. Getting to know other people, making new friends, and having great experiences and fun together requires a contribution from you. Combining driving dynamics and the magic of curves. Traveling together also requires a certain generosity, respect, and consideration - experience and grant. Our rides are neither driving training nor racing camps. The road captain sets the speed. His job is to lead the group safely to its destination! We show consideration as long as the convoy is not disadvantaged. However, we also expect you to prepare yourself for the challenging ride, be mentally and physically fit and willing to embark on the adventure.

Our aim is to organize and book everything to perfection. Swiss Road Captain does its best to offer you an unforgettable ride with wonderful memories. But not everything can always be perfect. Sometimes it is not only the weather that we cannot influence. Therefore, there may be changes.
